

Engineering Department Proposal – Amendment

April 28, 2021

The faculty of the Engineering & Systems department met on Tuesday, April 27, to discuss the renaming of the department should the proposal for the new Engineering Department be granted approval. The faculty of the Automotive Technology, Electronics Technology, HVAC Technology, and Industrial Automation programs agreed that the following name is appropriate:

Applied Science and Technology

This name captures the importance various scientific principles that are fundamental to the various technologies utilized in each area such as electricity, thermodynamics, physics, chemistry, fluid mechanics, materials science, and computer science.