When the beginning of the semester began I was attempting to transfer from another community college to Bakersfield College. I moved here from San Diego to Bakersfield and had believed the transferring process was going to be quick. Instead it will take up to 24 weeks for my credits to be read and applied. After waiting a number of days I checked my student email and found a new billing statement of "BCSGA Student Services." I was wondering if i must still paid said amount? I read after 2 weeks appeals will not be heard. Thank you for your help in any way.
