

Advisor Statement:

I am writing this advisor statement in support of the Math Club members' request to attend the Fall Conference of the California Mathematics Council Community Colleges (CMC3) scheduled to take place on December 8-10, 2023, at the Hyatt Regency Monterey Hotel and Spa.

The Math Club members have shown exceptional dedication and passion for mathematics. Their active participation in our mathematics activities and commitment to academic excellence has been commendable. I believe that attending the CMC3 Fall Conference will provide them with valuable opportunities for personal and academic growth. This conference offers a unique platform for students to engage with fellow mathematics enthusiasts, educators, and professionals. It will expose them to a wide range of mathematical topics, innovative teaching methods, and networking opportunities. The knowledge and experiences gained from this event will not only enhance their understanding of mathematics but also inspire them to excel further in their academic pursuits. I have confidence in the responsible and respectful behavior of our Math Club members during the conference. They understand the importance of representing our institution positively and making the most of this educational opportunity. I wholeheartedly endorse their participation in the CMC3 Fall Conference and kindly request your support in permitting them to attend this event. Your assistance in facilitating their registration and travel arrangements will be greatly appreciated. Thank you for your attention to this matter, and I look forward to the growth and learning experiences that our Math Club members will gain from this conference.
