- Apr 16, 2021

Bakersfield College is in the final stages of developing curriculum to train interested students in the field of diagnoses and repairs for plug-in electric vehicles.

According to a news release from BC, the Electric Vehicle Maintenance Training Program is designed to prepare next generation auto technicians and help them secure jobs in an in-demand career field.

The program is being conducted in partnership with Valley Clean Air Now.

The first set of courses is on track to begin in the Summer 2021 semester.
